The main objectives of the CASEE-In project are two-fold:

- to create a set of indicators for quality assurance in internationalization of higher education institutions;
- to introduce innovative student mobility by exposing master students to interdisciplinary scientific conferences, thereby increasing the employability of graduates through a higher level of intercultural and interdisciplinary competences.

CASEE-In main activities and outcomes:

- mapping, evaluating and profiling internationalisation of CASEE university partners by creating sets of indicators to provide useful tools to measure and map internationalisation;
- assurance of quality standards in following dimensions:
 1. teaching and learning profile;
 2. student profile;
 3. research involvement;
 4. involvement in knowledge exchange;
 5. international orientation;
 6. regional engagement;
- introducing innovative mobility activities based on research; interdisciplinary promotion of internationalisation.
